York Telecom Founder and CEO Dr. York Wang
Named Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year® 2009 Award Winner in New Jersey

Award Recognizes Entrepreneurial Excellence in Technology Solutions Category

EATONTOWN, NEW JERSEY—June-25, 2009— York Telecom, a leading global provider of visual communications services and solutions, today announced that Dr. York Wang, the company's founder and CEO, received the Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year® 2009 Award in the technology solutions category in New Jersey. According to Ernst & Young LLP, the award recognizes outstanding entrepreneurs who are building and leading dynamic, growing businesses. Dr. Wang was selected by an independent panel of judges, and the award was presented at a gala event at the Teaneck Marriott at Glenpointe on Tuesday, June 23rd, 2009.

As an early pioneer in the videoconferencing industry, Dr. York Wang was instrumental in the digital video teleconferencing product planning and the systems engineering effort that defined prototype and initial standard products, subsystem interfaces, initial maintenance capabilities and customer network control protocol for Bell Laboratories. In 1985, Dr. Wang founded York Telecom, and today his vision has grown into a full service organization offering professional videoconferencing and network consulting, operational and integration services to Government and Commercial markets.

"I am honored to be the recipient of such a highly regarded award," said Dr. Wang. "Over the past twenty-four years I have been very fortunate to have a supportive team of individuals to collaborate with in conveying the vision of our customers and our industry. We have all been honored tonight."

"York's drive for innovation has allowed our company to grow over 300 percent in the past two years alone," commented Ron Gaboury, President and COO of York Telecom. "There is no doubt that his vision for the future of technology will enable our continued growth."

The Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year awards celebrate their 23rd anniversary this year. The program honors entrepreneurs who have demonstrated exceptionalism in such areas as innovation, financial performance and personal commitment to their businesses and communities.

"We are proud to recognize the achievements of Dr. Wang," said Keith Brownlie, Ernst & Young LLP Entrepreneur of the Year Program Director for New Jersey. "Winners of the Entrepreneur of the Year award build leading businesses and contribute significantly to the strength of our region's economy. Their success helps our area grow stronger."

As a New Jersey award winner, Dr. Wang is now eligible for consideration for the Ernst & Young LLP Entrepreneur of the Year 2009 national program. Award winners in several national categories, as well as the overall national Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year award winner, will be announced at the annual awards gala in Palm Springs, California on November 14, 2009. The awards are the culminating event of the Ernst & Young Strategic Growth Forum, the nation's most prestigious gathering of high-growth, market-leading companies.
