

You have a vision.

Vision is the backbone of your organization. That's why you need to communicate that vision to a broader audience, whether it is a company announcement, product launch, live music concert, virtual trade show, training program, or a multimedia event.

York Telecom's Media Services Division provides pre and post-production audio and video services, and can help you develop and distribute media assets to your audience. Our Media Services experts will produce broadcast-quality video and audio and distribute it to a global audience via satellite broadcast or the Internet.

A Full Suite of Media Services:

- Audio and Video Pre and Post-Production services
- Multi-camera switched shoots
- Live Broadcast to Satellite, Television or Internet
- Global Streaming Media
- Satellite Uplink/Downlink
- Lighting and Staging
- Content Syndication
- Sponsorship
- Encoding (Real, Windows, QuickTime, MPEG)
- DVD Authoring and Tape Duplication
- Captioning for Internet Video
- Creative Services
- A/V Design, Planning, Installation, Integration and Support

For more information about how York Telecom's Media Services Division can help you create and communicate your vision, visit our website at www.yorktel.com, call 866.836.8463 or email us at info@yorktel.com.

Recognized as an industry leader and innovator, York Telecom's Media Services Division has the experience, state-of-the-art technology and creative vision to assist you with the creation, production and distribution of media content.

Production Services

We use state-of-the-art video production equipment to create presentations, online video, television commercials and promotional DVDs.

Single Camera Shoot

The award-winning York Media Services production team can capture your events, creating video that you can leverage to communicate, educate, market and distribute your message to the widest possible audience.

Multiple Camera, Switched Shoot

We use multi-camera, switched shoots to broadcast your events live via satellite, stream via the Internet, or capture to tape to create programs that communicate your message and showcase your organization.

We have provided expert video production for major motion picture and television studios and thousands of Internet broadcasts for major media and news outlets, Fortune 1000 companies, government agencies, trade shows, concerts, festivals, and educational institutions.

Postproduction

We provide linear and nonlinear editing, original music composition and scoring, 3D animation, titling, tape duplication and DVD authoring. Our award-winning editors, engineers, designers, musicians and creative talent will assist with every step of the postproduction process to ensure the full realization of your vision.

Signal Acquisition

We provide on-site satellite uplink and downlink capabilities, ISDN to IP conversion, audio and video bridging, gateway services, and encoding for Windows Media, Real, QuickTime and MPEG.

Videoconferencing

We provide complete remote videoconferencing services, including all hardware and software, network provisioning, audio and video bridging, on-site VTC management, 24/7 Help Desk, Professional Service Support and secure video solutions.

Streaming Media

Online Video Archive

The York Media Services streaming infrastructure can host and serve your streaming video online. You'll not only receive superior service, scalability and support, but our uptime guarantee gives you confidence that your online video will be delivered each and every time.

Live Internet Broadcast

York Media Services can produce, encode and distribute your video content online. For any planned event, we can help you ensure a successful live Internet broadcast.

Live 365

Continuous access to our network of media servers allows you to serve streaming audio or video 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. This lets you efficiently and effectively distribute media content online without the need for hardware, software, bandwidth and personnel.

Interactive Multimedia

Our interactive online tools help you create compelling online presentations, using streamed audio and video, slide shows, two-way interactive messaging, online polling, application sharing, testing, and captioning.

For more information about our Media Services offerings, visit our website at www.yorktel.com, call 866.836.8463 or email us at info@yorktel.com.